DAY 5 – Simpson Desert & "Big Red"

Birdsville was originally named Diamantina Crossing in 1881 after the Diamantina River, which runs to the east of the town. However, the township was renamed Birdsville in 1885 by the owner of Pandie Pandie Station who was amazed by the diversity of birdlife which inhabited the area. The town only has a population of around 100 people, but during the Big Red Bash and the Birdsville Races it swells to over 7,000!

Birdsville is also situated on the edge of the Simpson Desert National Park, which is characterised by huge red sand dunes. There are approximately 1,100 sand dunes running North-South across the Simpson, the most famous being 'Big Red', also known as Nappaneric. This massive sand dune is a popular place for tourists to put their four-wheel-drive vehicles to the test.

This morning we'll have a look round town and visit the Wirrarri Visitor Centre, home to an extensive gallery. This afternoon, visit 'Big Red' before returning for our second and final night in Birdsville. (B,L,D)

DAY 6 – Birdsville - Mungerannie – Leigh Creek

Today we embark on the famous Birdsville Track. This outback trail traverses three deserts along the route, the Strzelecki, Sturt Stony and Tirari Deserts. The track was opened in the 1860's to walk cattle from northern Queensland and the Northern Territory to the nearest railhead in Port Augusta, which was later moved to Marree.

CORNER COUNTRY ADVENTURE

Over the years it became one of the country's most isolated and best-known stock routes, as well as the mail route made famous by outback legend Tom Kruse. This was eventually replaced in 1963 by air services.

We enjoy a visit to Mungerannie before arriving into The Marree Hotel for our overnight stay. (B,L,D)

DAY 7 – Lyndhurst - Strzelecki Track - Innamincka

This morning we depart Marree and traverse another famous track, the Strzelecki Track through to Innamincka.

This famous outback track was created by infamous cattle thief Harry Readford in 1870, who blazed the trail out of necessity whilst attempting to move 1,000 head of cattle from Queensland into South Australia. He learned to navigate by the stars from the local Indigenous, earning him the nickname of Captain Starlight!

Today the track is named after Polish explorer, Paul Edmund de Strzelecki. The explorer and scientist arrived in Australia in 1839 to complete a geological survey across New South Wales and the Australian Alps to name the highest point on mainland Australia.

Arriving late afternoon, we spend the next two nights at the Innamincka Hotel in comfortable motel units. (B,L,D)

DAY 8 – Innamincka Sightseeing

Innamincka is a small town with a population of no more than fifteen people. The township once played a major role in early explorations of Australia's unknown interior. With its reliable water source, it made an ideal base camp or resting place for expeditions and cattle drives from the east and the south.

This morning we cross the border into QLD to visit the 'Dig Tree', located on the banks of Cooper Creek. This is where explorers Burke and Wills returned to after their expedition to the Gulf of Carpentaria, only to discover their party had left just nine hours earlier.

After returning to Innamincka for lunch at the hotel, we will enjoy an informative talk from the local ranger.

This afternoon, we head out for some local touring to Kings Marker and then onto Burke's Grave. We return to the hotel in time for sunset drinks and a cheese platter round the fire with one of the staff chatting about life in such a remote area, followed by dinner and our final night at the Innamincka Hotel.
